Phone #: (____) - ____ - _____

Date: _____

True/False

- 1) According to 1 John 2:6, Christ is our example. This is a verse proving that there was disunity between the Will of the Divine nature of Christ and His human nature. (T/F)
- 2) The Saints who are perfect in their behavior achieve complete agreement between their will and the Will of God, so that their will becomes that of God, and the Will of God becomes their will. (T/F)
- 3) "I and My Father are One" (John. 10:30). This verse does not mention the Holy Spirit indicating that the Will of the Father and the Logos are the same, but the Will of the Holy Spirit is different. This can be seen in the story of St Paul and St Barnabas. (T/F)
- 4) What the Divine nature Chooses is undoubtedly the same as that chosen by the human Nature because there is not any contradiction or conflict between the will and the action of both. (T/F)
- 5) It was the Divine nature alone who walked on the sea water and rebuked the wind, and nothing is attributed to the human nature. (T/F)
- 6) "And truly Jesus did many other signs in the presence of His disciples, which are not written in this book" (John. 20:30). This verse is another example of how Jesus, the incarnate Logos is of two distinguished natures after his incarnation. (T/F)
- 7) 1st Cor. 10:4 discusses that Jesus was only composed of the Divine nature, since the Human Nature had not existed at the time. (T/F)
- 8) The Son of God is God the Logos incarnate, that is, the Divine nature as proven by the verse “Who is the Son of God” and the Lord told him "you have seen Him and it is He that talks with you." (John. 9:35-37). (T/F)
- 9) The Only-Begotten Son is God the Logos, and the Second Hypostasis. (T/F)
- 10) "This is My Beloved Son in whom I am well pleased." (Matt. 3:17). This verse refers only to the Human Nature of Christ. (T/F)
